MONTREAL

With its 2,000,000 people, Montreal is the second largest French city in the world. Its culture is a distinctive blend of French, British, and American customs and attitudes. Old historic buildings are mingled with the modern architecture of a large metropolis in a great port on the St. Lawrence River. The Laurentian Mountains and the Green Mountains of Vermont are only an hour's drive away.

HOUSING

The University does not operate student residences. It is, however, prepared to assist students in finding suitable lodgings, upon request. These should be addressed to the Office of the Dean of Students.

RECREATION

The city of Montreal offers a wide variety of cultural and recreational opportunities. The Office of Student Affairs will be glad to furnish specific information about these and to make any arrangements that may be required. Registered students are also entitled to use the swimming and gymnasium facilities.

ADMISSION

Admission and registration are by mail and on a first-come first-served basis. Course enrollments will be limited.

UNDER- GRADUATE & GRADUATE CREDIT

These are third and fourth year undergraduate courses, and may count for graduate credit as well. A full course is the equivalent of six semester hours, lectures being two hours per day from Monday through Friday for six weeks.

Students interested in exploring the relationship between philosophical and sociological approaches to the study of man are particularly welcome. Prerequisites are listed with each course description. Students from other institutions are welcome and are expected to have comparable prerequisites. A transcript or letter from the appropriate institution should be submitted as documentation of prerequisites.

PREREQUISITES

Fees are one hundred dollars for a full FEES course.

A deposit of $25.00 (certified check or money order made out to Sir George Williams University) per full course must accompany an application for admission and registration. This money will be credited to fees if an application is accepted. It will be refunded only if an application is refused. The balance of the fee must be paid within 10 calendar days of the beginning of classes.

No refund of fees can be made after July 15.

Sir George students are reminded that they may not earn more than two course credits in one summer, regardless of the session in which the courses are taken.

All application forms, inquiries, and correspondence concerning these courses should be addressed to:

Director, Summer Institute
Department of History
Sir George Williams University
Montréal 107, P.Q.

History of Canada Since 1534

A study of the growth of Canada from the age of exploration to the present time. Emphasis is placed on the political, economic and cultural developments which are of significance in the understanding of the problems of today.

History 221.OA

Full Course: Mon. to Fri. 9:00-11:00.

ROBIN B. BURNS, M.A., Carleton University, specializes in nineteenth-century Canadian history. His interests include the development of Canadian nationalism and the history of the Irish in Canada. He has completed a study of D'Arcy McGee's concept of the "New Nationality", has published several articles on McGee, and is now working on a full length biography of McGee.

CAMERON NISH, Doctorat, Laval University, is a specialist in the history of Quebec, with particular emphasis on the social and economic history of the French regime in Canada. His published works include The French Regime, a documentary study; The French Canadians, 1759-1766: Conquered? Half-conquered? Liberated? and Les Bourgeois-Gentilshommes de la Nouvelle-France, 1729-1748, as well as several articles in learned journals. Among his forthcoming works is a book of readings on Maurice Duplessis and a study of entrepreneurship in New France in the 18th century. He is research and executive director of the Centre de Recherche en Histoire Economique du Canada Français and director of the Centre D'Etude du Québec.

War and Canadian Civil Society

An examination of civil society under the stresses of the wars in which Canada has been directly involved, with special emphasis on the Seven Years' War; the American Revolution; the War of 1812; the First World War; and the Second World War.

History 427.OA

Prerequisite: One course in Canadian History or permission of the History Director.

Full Course: Mon. to Fri. 9:00-11:00.

Visiting Professor:
Charles Humphries
University of British Columbia

CHARLES W. HUMPHRIES, holder of a Ph.D. from the University of Toronto, is currently an associate professor in the History Department at the University of British Columbia. His published articles in Canadian History include studies of the town of York during the War of 1812; British Columbian post-war reaction in 1919-1920; the shape of Ontario politics prior to the Great War; and the social aspects of the Great Depression.

Foreign Relations of the United States

A study of United States foreign policy from 1830 to the present. Emphasis will be placed on the relationship of modernization and industrialization to changing national goals. In a series of case studies the impact of the United States on Mexico and other countries of the Third World will be examined.

History 455.OA

Prerequisite: One course in American History
or permission of the
History Director.

Full Course: Mon. to Fri. 1:00-3:00

Visiting Professor:
Thomas McCormick
University of Pittsburgh

THOMAS McCORMICK is associate professor of history at the University of Pittsburgh. Since receiving his Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin he has published China Market; America's Quest for Informal Empire, 1893-1901 and numerous articles in scholarly publications. Professor McCormick's current project is an in-depth examination of the political, social, and economic impact of the United States on Mexico.

Nationalism and Communism in Modern China

A description and analysis is provided in this course of the development of Chinese nationalism beginning with the Western confrontation in the 19th century and culminating in the rise to power of Chiang Kai-shek and Japan's invasion of China. The latter part of the course will deal with the origins, ideology, and evolution of Chinese communism from 1920 to the present.

History 464.OA

Prerequisite: One course in Asian or Chinese History or permission of the History Director.

Full Course: Mon. to Fri. 9:00—11:00

Visiting Professor:

Donald G. Gillin
Vassar College

DONALD G. GILLIN, received his Ph.D. from Stanford University, and is both professor and chairman of the East Asian Program at Vassar College. He was visiting professor at the Hoover Institution and the University of North Carolina. In addition, he is General Editor of the Bibliography on East Asia for Undergraduate Libraries. Professor Gillin has written well over a dozen important articles on various phases of East Asian history. His most important book is: Warlord: the Life and Times of Marshall Yen Hsi-shan, 1883 to 1960.

Modernization of European Society, 1750 to the Present

This course presents an analysis of the social bases and effects of economic and political modernization in Europe. Major social classes will be examined before and during each major stage of industrialization. Special emphasis will be placed on changing material values, alteration of family structure, etc. The basic question posed will be: whom did modernization alienate, and why, and whom did it satisfy?

History 417.OA
